BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1922

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

J. L. TILLER & SONS BUY THE STANFILL GROCERY

Another very important business change in Barbourville was announced this week when J. L. Stanfill announced the sale of his grocery and meat store to J. L. Tiller & Sons, operators of a chain of stores thru Eastern Kentucky.

Always awake to the public's demands and alert to their own interests, Tiller's will establish an up-to-date grocery under clean and sanitary management in keeping with the present trend of business they will run a strictly cash store giving the public the very best prices and quality possible.

The people of Barbourville are fortunate in being favored by these enterprising grocerymen for their store not only means they want to make money but that they recognize in Barbourville a good town to do business.

Tillers are staunch believers in advertised goods and their line will always consist of the very best the market affords. Their experience of thirty years in the grocery business assures the public of Barbourville of their ability to give to them the best to be had.

They will also handle fresh meats of all kinds to meet the demand of the public and from time to time demonstration of the leading lines of Coffee, Teas Canned Goods, etc., will be staged and in this way it is hoped the wants of Barbourville will be ascertained.

It is our prediction the new firm will do a good business from the first day, but Mr. Tiller says it will take a few days to rearrange the stock and fixtures but by the time the postoffice gets lined up properly in its new location alongside the Tiller's the new firm will certainly be heard from.

Tillers have stores at Harlan, Middlesboro, Pineville, and Corbin and thru their big, wholesale buying they are able to sell at prices which make for heavy sales to the satisfaction of the public.

PINEVILLE INVITES BARBOURVILLE TO FOUND KIWANIS

The following letter is of interest to the young men of our town:

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 21, 1922. Mr. Fred Burman, Editor, The Mountain Advocate, Barbourville, Kentucky. My dear Mr. Burman:

I note with pleasure your article, "Why Not a Kiwanis Club," in your paper of January 20.

I am sure that you must be aware of the good work being done by Kiwanis in Pineville and Middlesboro, and I would like to inform you of the good work being done in other towns in the state which have Kiwanis Clubs.

Corbin is a very live wire; Winchester and Lexington clubs are continually getting in the limelight.

The Kiwanis movement is spreading rapidly. There have been two new clubs organized in Kentucky in the western end of the state within the last ten days, and I am deeply interested in seeing Barbourville in the fold. I am enclosing sundry literature which will give you an insight into the organization and may I suggest that as a preliminary step to organize a club in Barbourville, you take the phone directory and list off every desirable member and his business. The club allows dual classification, in other words, two members are druggists, two doctors, two surgeons, two hotel men, etc.

It requires fifty members to become regularly organized. If you can get together about a dozen well known, good live young men as a temporary organization committee, and they can round up the balance, you will very readily perfect an initial organization. I suggest young men on the preliminary committee as it is my experience that the older citizens will become members, but they do not readily take to the work of organization.

I will be glad to go into this matter further with you, and when the time is ripe, I will come to Barbourville or send another to guide you in the preliminary steps. A Kiwanis Club in towns the size of Barbourville has done more to cement the town than any other organization of its kind, and I can assure you that you will be amply repaid by the thanks of the community for the service you will render by bringing a Kiwanis Club to Barbourville.

Please feel at liberty to call on me at any time. Extending to you a hearty invitation to attend a Kiwanis Club luncheon at noon on any Tuesday in Pineville, I am Yours truly, HAL MOULD, Governor.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ARRESTS FIVE AT WARREN

Tom Watts, deputy sheriff at Warren, on Saturday night went after five men accused, it is alleged, of gambling and whiskey drinking. On attempting to enter the house, it is alleged he was resisted by firearms, a number of shots being fired. Deputy Watts persisted and arrested three men who were put under bond and on Sunday morning he went after the other two, putting them under bond also.

America is a peace loving nation of fighting men and women.

$50,000 BOND ISSUE PROPOSED

With the object of lifting Kentucky out of the mud and for the purpose of paying the State indebtedness to the various counties for roads constructed under State law, a bond issue of $50,000,000 is being proposed to the Assembly, to be put up to the people later. We believe the object is excellent and it should receive the support of our people. Not until we get good roads over the whole county shall we realize what they mean to us. Hon. White is now sponsoring the bill.

MABEL SAYS

The following whispered conversation was overheard at one of Barbourville's club parties last week.

"My goodness, Mabel, the back of your neck is dirty! Did you forget to wash before you came?"

Now, no! That is from my coat lining. I have been intending for some time to send it away to have it cleaned but I can't do without it this cold weather."

"Oh, don't send it away! I sent mine to the laundry and they sent it back the next day just like new. They do wonderful dry cleaning now. They cleaned Mrs. Smith's gray silk and it surely looks fine and that brown broadcloth of Mrs. Jones came back pressed and finished perfectly."

"Well, I guess I will send this coat there. What is the telephone number?"

"Just call up 34. They'll do the rest."

MRS. WILL JARVIS WILL APPRECIATE YOUR ORDER

It is a pleasure for Mrs. Jarvis to call and talk over what the friends of the store or new customers may want to buy. Purchases may be small or large, it is all the same. Prices at Ralph Tuggle's store are being very favorably commented upon and will be quoted in the Advocate later on. Meantime, please phone 183 or 63 and ask Mrs. Jarvis to call.

CO-OPERATION IS NECESSARY In Stamping Out Liquor Traffic

A strong effort is being made by Judge J. T. Stamper and the Sheriff's office to locate the stills which are supplying liquor to our citizens. One of the main troubles is the difficulty in getting people to tell the Court where they got the liquor or where the stills are located, without which information it is difficult to uproot the traffic.

CIVIC LEAGUE

The Civic League met in regular session January 19th, at the home of Mrs. F. R. Burton with the president, Mrs. J. R. Tuggle, presiding. The attendance was large and many matters of interest were discussed. A committee was appointed to meet with the City Council to discuss matters of common interest and another committee is to meet the County officials to come to some understanding about beautifying the Court House Square.

Dues were collected as is customary at the January meeting. Those who were not present are reminded of their dues and can pay same to Mrs. E. G. Garrard.

Dainty refreshments were served during a short social period.

The meeting on February 2nd will be with Mrs. Robert W. Cole.

The Mountain Advocate gives the news of Knox County.

We do printing of the first class.

INTERESTING OLD DOCUMENT

Reed Hughes this week showed an interesting document which goes back into the history of Knox County nearly one hundred years. It is a bond to the Commonwealth executed by James H. Pogue, Sheriff for the Revenue, and was copied and placed in the mail Sept. 16th, 1827. At that time it took two weeks for mail to arrive in Frankfort from this county. The document is signed by Jas. F. Ballinger, clerk, and John Patton, Thos. Tuggle, Lynn S. Cunningham, Mathias W. Cain and Joe Payne as sureties. The bond was written with a goose quill.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Hobart Clark was accidentally shot and killed on Thursday of last week when he had gone to some traps which he had set in the mountain about one mile from his home. He left home about 10:00 a. m. and his brother, Lee Hammons, and others found him at 9 p.m. An inquest showed that he was looking at his trap underneath a rock and a shotgun, which he carried, slid down the mountain and fired, the load taking effect just above the heart.

Hobart's age at time of death was 19 years, 6 months and 14 days. He was born July 5, 1902, only one day after his father, Bert Clark, was accidentally shot and killed, July 4, 1902.

Funeral services were held at the family cemetery Saturday. Rev. Lewis officiating.

Hobart was a well liked, fine young man and we feel sure that the eternal Father, who is the fount of love and mercy, now has him in his tender keeping.

BREAKFAST WHEEZES

Phil Sinters, our County Attorney is acquitting himself well, but tries to prevent others from doing so.

The Court House clock has the face to say that while it cannot go on tick alone, it can and will go if Brother West will give it its wind back.

Not the legal profession is not leaving the liquor cases lying around where they may be appropriated.

F. W. Golden may be proud of his new building but the ladies should refuse to enter it as it is for male only.

Ben H. Gregory is a man of many types, but still makes a good impression.

The Wilson Bros. Store is allowing Corbin to call our citizens' names.

Judge J. T. Stamper is acting as both law-giver and road-master but declines to railroad any of his prisoners.

Postmaster W. F. Amis has found his delivery business so increased that he will move into larger quarters February 1st. The Clear Tone Music Company will move into the old postoffice and B. S. Edwards says he will be miles ahead at the new location.
